Journal: LD Pierce April 1999

Received email two weeks ago fromXXXXXXXX she wrote me to give me the address of an E.A Luke in Mobile AL that has been researching my LUKE family. Monday of this week I received a packet from him with two documents, one a short treatise on John Luke, and the other on the descendants of John Luke I I .

I was very please to find myself and my family in his book, thanks to the diligent work of my Grandmothers sister Ruth Luke Reardon of Perryton TX, (and my hometown Spearman, TX) She passed away in 1995.

Other Note from Editor LD Pierce--in talking with my grandmother today April 15, 1999, I have finally noted that my grandmother is a double Luke. Her grandfather Ethan Luke married his 2nd cousin, Julia Elizabeth Luke. She was descended from Issac Luke and Rebecca Hewitt. Azel was descended from John Luke and Margaret Ference.

S.R. (Rob) Hibbs

taken from A History of Beaver County OK Families, published 1992 by Beaver Co Historical Society Inc. Vol III PO Box 457 Beaver Ok 73932 405-626-4439

Article written and submitted by Daughter Julia Hibbs McMannus of Gage Oklahoma

S. R. (Rob) Hibbs came to Beaver County in 1886 at the age of 7 with his father and mother, Amos and Rosa Hibbs, and family.

The Hibbs family was living in Humbolt Ks in the late 1870's when Amos Hibbs acquired a contract with the government to freight Army supplies from the end of the railroad at Dodge City Ks by wagon to Tascosa, Tx, and Ft. Henderson, Tx (Old Miami), for four trips a year. He had four wagons and eight yoke of oxen. Humbolt was a long way from Dodge City. He could only get home three or four times a year, and then only for a few days at a time. It would take him over two month round trip, then he would ride the train to LA Harp, then ride a horse ten miles home, stay a few days, then catch the train from La Harp back to Dodge City.

The freight crossing on the Beaver River was where Beaver City is now, about half way on his route. there was good grass and plenty of water there, so he would spend two or three days there repairing wagons and letting the oxen feed up and rest. He decided to move his family there so he could spend more time with them.

He found a beautiful spot about seven miles southeast from what is now the town of Beaver. He obtained permission from the Army to build a home there. Amos cut down some cottonwood trees and cleared a plot of land. He cut poles and logs for construction and started a sod house. In 1883 he brought some of the older children with him to spend the summer working on the home. Four year old Rob came with them and made a full trip with his father. They picked and stacked buffalo bones; they loaded the bones on the wagons on the way back. Amos sold the bones at Dodge City, Kansas. They finish the sod house in 1886. Four Hibbs brothers, Wesley, Peter, Asa, and Amos with their families, moved by covered wagon to Beaver County in the spring of 1886,

The sod house had five rooms, a bedroom and living room across the front, a long room for a kitchen and dining room in the center, two bedrooms across the back.

The two back bedrooms had no floors but the rest of the house was floored with cottonwood logs and sand filling between them. The logs were laid on the ground. They said it was more like a washboard than a floor.

Rob Hibbs first school was in an abandoned sod house. He had to walk two miles. The teacher was Miss Mamie Ashcraft.

When he was nine years old, he went with his brother Clarence to work as a choreboy for John George on his ranch on the Beaver River. He continued to work on ranches as a choreboy, bronco buster and cowboy until he was 16 years old. Rob was very good at taming horses for work on the ranches, and he made good money and came home with enough for his own needs and gave his mother enough to keep the family through the winter. He was 16 years old and wanted to go to school. He taught himself as much as possible and was able to enter Beaver School for two years; he rode his horse seven miles and graduated from the Beaver Elementary School; that was all they had in Beaver at that time. After school he went back to work on the ranches. In 1898 he joined Roosevelt's Rough Riders; he took some training at Ft Leavenworth, Kansas, then went to Louisiana, but the war was over too soon for him to get to Cuba. He came home and went to work for the Ewing Ranch near Higgins, Tx, where he met Will Rogers who was also working there. Bill Cody came through the country with his Wild West Show. Rob had a trained bucking horse; one of the tricks was to roll a cigarette while the horse bucked very high, Will Rogers whirled his rope and Rob rode his horse through the loop. They attended the show and put on their show and Cody hired them. Rob worked with the Wild West Show several seasons. He went to New York's Madison Square Garden one season.

Rob Hibbs filed on a claim 19 miles southeast of Beaver. I don't know what the year was. He was working to help his family; his brothers helped him prove up on his land. He built a one-room dugout, fenced some land for field, and hired a neighbor to break 40 acres. There was a large spring and good water on his land that is where the sheep war took place. The sheep men were watering their sheep there and tramping out the spring. Rob was shot through the stomach and carried the bullet in his back near his spine the rest of his life.

Rob bought out some other claims adjoining his land so he had one and one-half sections. He gave land in one corner for a school. The first school was built from sod; Rob's sister Mrs. Jessie Drum (Jessie Hibbs Drum) was the first teacher. There were 50 pupils the first year. The people of the community raised money for lumber for a better building later.

In 1907 Lura Luke came to Beaver County. Her brother had a claim near Rob Hibbs. Lura Luke was born in Tendam, S Dakota, in 1884. She came to Oklahoma in 1896 with her father, Eathan Allen Luke, who was a stone mason and civil engineer. He got a railroad construction contract in Oklahoma. He built railroads in Oklahoma for ten years, then built brick buildings and dams. Lura cooked for his construction crews until she came to Beaver County. Lura's Brother Thomas Luke hauled water from Rob Hibbs' spring. Lura Luke and Rob Hibbs met at the spring; he started courting her and they married on May 19, 1908.

The first two children, Robert Darel and Julia Rosa, were born in a one-room Dugout. In 1911 Rob built a two-room frame house. Rob needed more land for pasture for his cattle and he sold out in 1913 and bought four sections in Hansford and Ochiltree County.

Notes for Julia Rosa Hibbs:

JULIA HIBBS McMANUS

I, Julia Hibbs (Faus) McManus was born September 20, 1911 in Beaver County Oklahoma. My parents were Robert and Lura Luke Hibbs. My father Rob Hibbs was born in Kansas and came to Beaver County with his parents in 1883. His father was an ox-team freighter for the Army from Dodge City to Tascosa, Texas and Miami, Texas. Beaver Okla. was half-way. Papa first saw the Mulock State Station, northwest of Hansford where the road crossed the Palo Duro Creek, about 1886, on a freighting trip with his father. He went to work as a chore boy on a ranch in Hansford County in 1890, they bought their supplies at Farwell east of where Gruver is now. Papa filed on land in Beaver County, Oklahoma in the early 1900's. He came back to Hansford (County) with Irv Steele and helped the Steeles locate there. Lura Luke came to Hansford County in 1906 with her parents Eathen Allen Luke and Luke. E.A. Luke was a civil engineer, he got a contract to build a bridge the first in Hansford County, on the Palo Duro Creek at Old Hansford. He later joined with Tom and Charley Crowley to form the Alamo Irrigation Ditch Company and built two dams on the Palo Duro Creek; one at Mulock and one on the Crowley Ranch (the Huff Wright Place). He also built a bridge on the J.I. Steele Ranch and many fireplaces and brick chimneys. Lura Luke went to Beaver, Oklahoma to visit her brother and met and married Robert Hibbs in 1908. Rob Hibbs got a letter from J.I. Steele telling him of the Mulock place and some surrounding land that was for sale. He came to Hansford County and bought the Mulock place and four sections in Hansford and four sections of adjoining land in Ochiltree County. Our neighbors were; Simmons, O'Loughlins, Andrews, Steeles, and the Powers to the south. Bertrands, McMurry, Newcomb, Crowleys, James, Burks, and Lukes to the north and west. My sister Ruth (Reardon) and brother Lawrence Hibbs were born at the old Mulock Place. We attended school at New Hope which was held in the church (Huff's Chapel) as the old sod at New Hope School-house was unsafe by that time. They later built a new schoolhouse on the site of the old sod Newcomb Place. I married Ruben Paul Faus in February 1930 and moved to Spearman where we raised our family except for the war years in Amarillo. They are: Rosa Amelia (Steele)

12/21/30; Harry Elmer, 9/14/32; Jaunita Lois (Pierce), 12/15/33; Bertha Ileen (Willison) 11/5/35; Ruby Joyce (Saltnes) 5/5/37; Phyllis Inez (Mann) 7/5/44.

Homer McManus was born in Brownwood, Texas, grew up in Slaton, his father was an Engineer for the Santa Fe Railroad. Homer went to work for the railroad when he finished high school in 1926, he transferred to Amarillo in 1929 but left during the depression for lack of seniority. He came to work in the oilfield in 1956.

Homer and I married in Perryton in 1960 and lived in South Texas some years. And have lived in Amarillo since 1977.

New West Provides Wide Market for Cowboy Boots

By Margaret Kirk Amarillo News-Globe Correspondent

Spearman: Feb. 18 1950

Rube Faus traded himself into Spearman's industrial stream back in 1933. It hadn't been a very good farming year and Rube was ready to change occupations. Leon Bowling had heard about wonderful bean farming in New Mexico. He was tired of making boots.

So Rube traded Leon a 1929 Chevrolet Roadster, two cows, two hogs, five horses, a four-wheeled trailer, and two sets of harness for the Bowling Bootshop a four room affair which provided living quarters, boot and shoe machines, a supply of leather. The deal involved no cash.

Leon was to remain with Rube until Rube learned how to make boots. They had finished only two pairs when Leon had to take off, and Rube was on his own. He took the situation from there to develop a business, which serves the North Plains and many special customers.

Rube made his first pair of boots for Louis Smith, Jimmy Cator's nephew. He has on file 95 order books, which cover approximately 1600 pair, which he has made in the 17 years on the bench.

The biggest order came from a man who was 7 feet, 4 inches tall, weighed 260 pounds, and wore a size 15 shoe.

In July 1933 the price range was from $15 to $20. Now it's from $47.50 to $75. Rube's strangest order was for a pair of woman's white boots with four aces on the back and front with an inlay of hearts and diamonds around the caps and tops. They sold for $62.50.

One day a guy swaggered in and ordered a medium, round, square, quarter box toe! Maybe so. Rube did not argue. When the customer came in for them he wanted to know where the quarter box was. Rube told him it was on the inside, and the man left completely satisfied.

Mr. and Mrs. Faus spent about 5 years in Amarillo. They had a shop on fourth Between Polk and Taylor. Mrs. Faus had become an expert top maker. She helped Rube at odd times. She also made tops for the Maddox and I gerton shops. She is quite a designer. She turned out two pairs daily. Could do three pairs for maybe a week at a time during the rush season. Three pair in two days is considered a good average.

One day two teen-age boys came into Rube's Bootshop and stalked around a while. As they left each grabbed a boot from the window display. Rube took out after them but his 220 pounds was a handicap. The kids were flagging down the alley, each swinging a boot. The police took over.

One morning Rube put a beautiful pair of boots on top of the showcase for display. It was a busy day. When he closed that night he noticed that the worst looking broken down boots had replaced the new pair. The replacement was permanent

A pair of boots mysteriously disappeared from Rub's showcase. Everybody denied selling them. Mrs. Faus made the deduction that if they sold they would sooner or later be returned for heels. and if they were stolen they would never hear of them.

In the usual time, 3-4 months they came back for repair. The wearer had bought them _____place. He paid for them by check. He brought in the cancelled check.

Some part lost

...Back and forth. If a pattern is altered nothing is thought of it. One rarely has a request for something absolutely different. If the boot artist makes such a creation, nobody would be caught dead liking it

A couple of Radio entertainers came to Amarillo to put on an USO show. They wanted Texas boots. The man was satisfied with a plain pair. The wife wanted a top that reflected her personality and was absolutely different to all tops ever made or ever would be.

She wanted white boots with white tops and Mrs. Faus had to _____ all day. She worked and drafted all day. And got nowhere. She went to be worrying about it. At 2 am she woke remembering the blue birds hadn't mentioned.

They next day she told her client that bluebirds made out of suede would have that feathered look. It was a bird of an idea, satisfactory to all concerned. Besides all the boot business, Rube takes care of half soles, and other shoe repairs. He estimates he does a yearly average of 1000 repairs.

Rube has set prices for all except "little, bitsy, teeny boots." He takes off 10 percent on such super-small sizes.

Rube Fiddles for recreation. He "doesn't know how come unless its like boot making" Maybe he inherited it. His dad was a fiddler. His Wife's Julia's grandfathers were shoemakers. So was her great, great granddad.

Rube had never even so much as sat down on a shoe bench, till he traded with Leon. Judging from the results, maybe there was a cobbler back on the Faus family tree.

RUBE FAUS BOOT MAKER DOESN'T MAKE BOOTS NOW

RUBE FAUS BOOT MAKER DOESN'T MAKE BOOTS NOW

By Mel Marshall

Spearman-- When he closed the order book number 100 after checking off the completion of 5784 pair of hand -made cowboy boots, Rube Faus decided he had made all the boots a man should make in 30 years. That was six years ago, and Rube has not cut leather for a pair of boots since. He spends all his time keeping boots and shoes in good condition.

There are plenty of Ranchers and farmers on the North Plains, though; who are still wearing boots Rube made for them. "I get a pair in to fix every now and then," Rube Says.

"A Good pair of hand-made boots will last a man 20 years or more. But mostly, what I work on now is shoes and factory boots. Nothing wrong with factory boots, of course, but they don't compare with hand-made boots."

Rube Faus got into the bootmaking business 36 years ago, when a bad crop year made him decide to quite farming. He had heard that Leon Bowling wanted to quit making boots in the shop Bowling owned in Spearman, So the two men sat down to dicker out a trade.

The deal was closed with an agreement to swap. Rube gave Bowling a 1929 Chevrolet Roadster, two cows, two hogs, five horses, a couple sets of harnesses and a trailer. Bowling turned the shop, a four-room building with living quarters included, all machinery in the shop and a stock of leather---NO Cash.

Bowling agreed to stay with Rube to teach him the trade, before taking off for New Mexico. But after working with Rube on two pair of boots, Bowling had to leave to close the deal for the bean farm he'd bought and Rube had to make it himself from then on.

He did. The day after his teacher left, a customer walked in and ordered a pair of boots. (Note from LD Pierce Rube's grandson-this customer was Jim Cator's nephew) Rube made them and they fit. So Rube didn't worry any longer a bout not being able to handle to the job b he had taken on. During the next quarter of a Century- he turned out boots of all shapes and sizes, accumulating a supply of over 500 boot-lasts which he still has, stored in the back of the shop he operates now strictly for repair work.

"Most of the last are for special customers." Rube muses. "Like the fellow who stood 7 feet tall and wore a size 15 shoe. And a lot of them are for ladies' boots, and little-bite lasts for children's feet. I used to knock 10 percent off the price for those tiny sizes"

Rube Explains: "A man who buys hand-made expects them to fit perfectly, so I built up a last using, using thin strips of leather, until I got the exact shape of his foot. That job takes a lot of time and when I 'd made a pair of special lasts I 'd just put them aside with the customer's name on them, because I 'd figure he would want another pair sooner or later."

Hand made boots are made by stretching the lining and uppers over the last with special pliers, tacking the uppers and lining to the insole as the bootmaker works around the edge of the last. When the leather is stretched-the tension must be just right so the uppers will hold their shape and be neither too loose nor too tight-the edge is welted and the outer sole is sewed on.

Then the last is removed and the uppers stitched to the boot. It's a painstaking job, because each piece of leather is slightly different, and the bootmaker works by feel and judgement.

"I got the hang of it pretty quick, I guess" Rube chuckled. "Most of my regulars would just stick their heads in the door when they'd pass the shop and just yell for me to make another pair.

"Half the time they didn't even say what color they wanted, and they knew I'd make brown. They liked brown or black or even tan, or whatever. And most of them wouldn't even try their boots on when they came to pick them up. They'd know the boot would fit."

When Rube Faus began making boots, the going price was $15 a pair, special fancy jobs running as high as $25. When he put aside his lasts, the minimum price was $65 with the fancy decorated jobs running over $100.

Rube Still recalls some of the strange orders he got for fancy boots-especially during the five years he set up shop on Fourth Street in Amarillo. He filled some orders for some wild designs-boots with all white tops, or barber-pole strips of alternate colors, or designs of playing cards around the top, and even one pair with the inserts of bluebirds made from dyed suede.

We never used to patent a design he says. " A man came in with a pair of boots he liked and I'd copy for them-just as I would expect a boot-maker somewhere else to copy of one of my designs somewhere else if a customers asked him to. Of course on the really fancy jobs, nobody who wears boots would want a pair like somebody else had."

For a hobby, Rube plays the fiddle. "Keeps my hands busy," he explains. "I guess its a little bit like working with leather. But I 'll never get back to bootmaking" he adds.

"I quit that because I could not find help, couldn't find anybody interested in doing the kind of hand work the job needs. I guess leather workers are what you would call a dying breed. There's not many of us left any more, and no young fellows coming along to take our place."

"So I 'll just stick to keeping boots and shoes in shape, and let them factories turn out the boots from now on."

To Rube's Daughter Juanita Faus Pierce (my mother-LD Pierce preparer)

Dear Juanita

Your letter arrived only now and I'm surely interested in the information you have sent. Just last week I sent out addenda information. As our cousins Martha Faus Parish in Ft Wayne, Indiana got in touch with Lester Faus-a son of John Faus- John Faus a son of John Faus- John Faus was a son of Oliver Faus Oliver Faus was a son of Henry Faus. Oliver had a brother Norman Faus and another one Henry Faus III . Henry Faus III is the grandfather of Lester C Faus of Los Angeles, who I met in LA in 1956. This makes 2 Lester Faus's in the Henry (II) Faus history. Laura Faus or Oram's Orchard, Alton, New Hampshire sent me the larger part of the Faus History. My aunt Minerva (Faus) Rosebush did some search work into the history in the east some years ago.

In 1953 I was confined to bed after some surgery on my knee for torn ligaments. At this time I began compiling data, but never realized what a task it would become. However, whenever I think well now so much and no more, something new shows up in the mails, this has happened 2 or 3 times since January 1958.

First it was Thomas Throne Faus and descendents of Ohio--then Lester Faus of Bluffton Indiana, which set me clear on just where Norman and Oliver Faus came in and now you add another link to the Henry Faus III descendents.

Before long we may have all 16 of Henry 16 II's children listed. Henry Faus II and Thomas Faus were brothers. Thomas Faus is my great grandfather. Thomas Ware Faus and Henry Faus his brother are my two grandfathers. All of the Henry Faus' children are deceased but 3 of Thomas Ware Faus's children are still living--mainly my father Lundy Boyd Faus (89 years)-Minerva Faus? (80) In Mcook Nebraska, and Estelle May Faus (73) in Los Angeles CA. My father is in Santa Anna California.

I 'll enclose a copy of 1954 history plus the recent addenda but I've only a stenciled carbon copy to send. Hope this may help you out.

I have a nephew Rev Lawrence Harrison Faus in Fort Worth TX who is pastor of a Baptist Church there. He is my youngest brother's oldest son. My brother was a victim of a car accident in 1951. My mother Mrs. LB Faus died in 1908 and is buried in Dalhart TX. L.B. junior is buried in Sunset Garden's cemetery in San Antonio TX. My other brother Clarence Faus lives in Clayton new, Mexico. I've got a sister Mrs. A.C. Barton (Marguerite Faus) who lives in Alamogordo NM and my youngest sister Lila, Mrs. L.K. Bangerter, lives in Los Angeles. Then I have 4 half sisters all married.

Laura Faus the daughter of Theodore Smith Faus is a retired teacher and Librarian. She lives at Orams Orchard in Alton, N H. I received a card from her along with your letter. Her brothers Harold Faus of West Lynn Mass is an inventory for General Electric Co. there and has over fifty patents on his electrical inventions. Her other brother Herbert Faus has been the consulting engineer for new York Central line, but resigned last year as age is getting him down now.

About a Coat of Arms and a family crest, Perhaps Laura Faus could find out- or has Dr Neil Faus ever consulted LC Faus of Los Angeles who looks up family records as part of his work>??? Lester C Faus's address is Box 26061 Elendale Stations Los Angeles 26 Calif. I m sure Lester would be happy to hear from you, being in his own lineage of the Henry (II) Faus family. When I visited my father in 1956 he met me at the airport with my Aunt Estelle and then drove up from LA to my home in Laguna Beach, 50 miles south of Los Angeles. He has promised me that when I get all my family data down Pat the way I want it that he will photostat it for me, but the Faus lineage is just endless. Herbert Faus met another Henry Faus at Times Sq. in Philadelphia, whom he recognized as a Faus before introductions by his features. Now they talked about lineage and this Henry Faus just from German Since WWI could trace back his ancestry over 300 years. Maybe he knows of the crest and the coat of arms. Henry S Faus's address is in the first addenda. You may have to study up my findings like a puzzle, but I hope you will find some missing links. I still have many incomplete records.

Sincerely Yours-

Sister M Euphrasia Faus

Notes for Ruth Jo Hibbs:
LB and Ruth (Hibbs) Reardon

In 1886, when my father, Rob Hibbs was seven years old, he with his parents came to Cimmaron Territory, in two covered wagons; one pulled by a team of horses and the other by a yoke of oxen. With a large family, they settled southeast of Beaver, Oklahoma. When Rob was only eight years old, he began working as a choreboy on the John George ranch. By the time he was twelve years old, he was learning to break and train horses; an ability for which he carried a high reputation all his life. He also attended trade school and learned to be a Blacksmith, serving his community in this capacity many years.

Rob's ability with men and stock, early earned him a job as "Trailboss." While a young man, he twice led trail herds of cattle from "Old Mobeetie," all the way to Oregon, returning with riding horses.

As soon as Cimmaron Territory opened for homesteading, he filed on land and established a home. Lura Luke had come from Eastern Oklahoma to Beaver county, to visit her brother, a neighbor of Rob Hibbs. They met and, in 1908 she became Mrs. Rob Hibbs and joined him on his home-stead. He was a rancher and felt a need for more ranchland.

My maternal grandfather, E.A. Luke, was an engineer and stonemason who lived in Eastern Oklahoma. He, with his sons owned the Alamo Construction Company, with a reputation for good construction work. Hearing of his dependable reputation, some ranchers persuaded him to move to Hans-ford County to build irrigation dams on the lower Palo Duro creek; among those built by his company were the Crowley ranch dam and others.

The Mulock Post Office, with Mr. Ira Mulock as postmaster and way station manager, was begun in 1899. Other postmasters had followed him but by 1912 Mrs. Lula Newcomb had been appointed and the postoffice had been moved into the New-comb ranchouse, so the Mulock waystation (was for sale. My grandparents and Newcomb's were neighbors. Knowing that my father was anxious for more land, Grandfather Luke, sent word to my parents of the opportunity. My parents bought the site, I along with several surrounding sections of I land in 1912. Early in the year of 1913, they, with one small daughter, moved into the four-room, story and one-half, Mullock way station building. This I S where they were living when I was born, followed the next year by my brother, Lawrence. Since the Palo Duro drained a large area and a dam was nearby, my father feared that we) might sometime be flooded, so he later tore down the Waystation and built a four room I house up on a hill above the old location. The gates were removed from the dam, and this became a favorite swimming and fishing hole with a large grove of trees nearby I that was ideal for picnicking.

It was customary for farmers and ranchers to haul winter supplies by wagon from Guymon. As the main wagon trail passed by our house, frequently, men and wagons spent the night with my parents, watering their horses at the creek and sheltering them in the barns and corrals that remained from the Waystation.

We were taught compassion for those less fortunate than we. Many were those who found a refuge and hospitality in our home for a night, a week or longer. As the local schoolhouse required replacing, a small Presbyterian Church named "Huff's Chapel" served as church and schoolhouse for a time. When my sister started to school there, she was the only girl to attend, so I was also sent to be company for her. The church was later used as a community church and was called "New Hope". The Presbyterians decided to sell the building, so my father bought it and lent it to the community for many years.

In 1921 we moved to an adjoining section, east and north of Mulock and the Mulock area was again sold. In this move we were very near the eastern edge of Hans-ford County, so attended Waka and Perryton schools. There we grew to adulthood, married and have continued to live in this Texas Panhandle area.

My children are the Martin twins, Iris and Ione. Ione is married to Paul Simmons; the son of local people, Edwin and Anabel Simmons. Paul and Ione have one son and one daughter. Iris is Mrs. Bill Cornell, who is a son of Rev. and Mrs. Gene Cornell. Ions and Bill have three daughters. I also have one greatgrandson. My husband is "Tim"Reardon of Spearman.

"Tim" Reardon was born in Scofield, Utah. orphaned at an early age, he and a sister were taken into the home of an uncle in Salt Lake City, Utah, for a time. They later lived in the home of their step-grandparents in Steamboat Springs, Colo. The sister married and moved to Council Bluffs. Iowa. Tim followed her; working his way through school, he graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School, there.

After finishing school and spending several years in the National Guard, he returned to Wyoming and worked with his brother on a ranch for a time, but soon was working in the oil industry. When drilling industry began nearby, he joined a crew and soon became an oil well driller. Being transferred frequently, as oilwell drillers are; he drilled in Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, eventually coming to the Panhandles of Texas and Oklahoma.

While working for Cree companies, near Borger, he was severely injured. Ed Simmons was associated with the Cry companies; so while Tim was recuperating from the foot injury Ed hired him to manage a farm and oilfield supply store which Ed and his son, Paul, were opening in Spearman. Tim lived here as manager of Southwell Supply Store for a number of years, making many lasting friendships.

In 1964 he was transferred to Perryton where he met Mrs. Ruth Hibbs Martin. Tim Reardon and Mrs. Ruth Martin were married in the Fall of 1965. They returned to Spearman to make their home in late 1977.

Tim's only son, Leroy B. Reardon, who lives in Cheyenne, Wyoming, has two sons and a daughter. His daughter, Roberta, who lives in Georgia is the mother of two daughters. Tim also has four great-grandchildren.

Rosa Faus Pierce Steele

I was born on my Grandpa Hibb's Ranch North of Spearman, TX, December 2, 1930. When I was three, we moved east of town to the Dennis Place. Now 43 years later in Veronica, Oregon, population 1,700 I live three blocks from Jo Dennis! Granda Faus Carried the mail. I went with him often. Sometimes I went the complete route, sometimes I stopped off at Grandpa Hibb's going home the next mail day. Then, the mail went out three days a week. I learned to drive at the age of five sitting on Grandpa's lap, steering and shifting gears. When Daddy first got Electricity in the Boot Shop the whole family went down that night to turn the lights on. Those lights were so bright. When I was eight, Mamma took over the Spearman Hotel. We kids hated living in that hotel. We had to be so quite, so clean, and make the fastest trips possible to the bathroom. There was only one bathroom for the whole hotel. December 7, 1941 I was in the Boot Shop, listening to the radio, we were at war. I'll never forget, I was so scared. In the spring we moved to Amarillo, TX, living there through the War years. In the summer of 1948 we moved back to Spearman. That summer I met and Married

James (Jim) Pierce. For the next several years I lived the life of a nomad, moving on the average of three times a year. Our first two sons were born in Dimmitt, TX. Franklin Lee born June 27, 1950, and Roy Paul born May 31, 1951. Our third and fourth sons were born in Spearman, David Lloyd born August 7 1952, and James Michael Born January 17 1955. Our fifth and sixth sons were born while we lived in Perris, California--Calvin Douglas born January 27 1959, and Richard Dean born June 22 1961. In September 1969, Jim and I were divorced and I had to start supporting a family. I went to work as a community center Aide in 1969. In 1971 I had advanced to Community Coordinator. In 1972 I was County Program Director, directing Youth Program, County Community Centers, and Committee for Progress through Law. In 1971 I met John Steele, we married 1972, and I resigned my job and went back to being a wife and a mother. Together we have 11 children, 15 grandchildren, and 15 foster children. John had a disabling back injury, so I am employed again as a Community School Co-ordinator. July 30 1978, one of my precious sons, Calvin Pierce, was killed by a hit and run driver as he sat beside the road. Frank will finish college in June this year. Roy is working in the world's largest nuclear plant in Illinois. He has three sons, Kevin, Ryan, and Jeffery. David works in a Crowne Zellarbach Paper Mill in Clatskanie, Oregon, he has two children, a girl, Lisa, and a boy Dustin. Mike and Richard are working in the oil fields in Oklahoma. John and I are planning to move to Spearman, hopefully in the summer or fall of 1979.

Cousin Cordelia Pullen Kendall is working on the Faus Vandercook genealogies and sending what she gets to Delbert. Will dekbert make his book up of all the Fauses?? I surely enjoyed Neils letter, and wrote to him sending a stamped envelope asking him to let Delbert know bout the family crest and Coat of Arms. Also rambled off a lot about the Oliver Faus...(no other pages found here)

Notes for James Lorenzo Pierce:

J.L. and Juanita (Faus) Pierce

JL Pierce son of L.D. Pierce and Jimmie Scott Pierce was born in Spearman in 1925. He is a 1942 graduate of Spearman High. He spent most of his younger years working with his father on water wells and windmills. After High School he spent time in Holly, Colorado running a Pool Hall. J.L.'s mother died when he was 20, so he helped his dad raise his only sister Peggy (Ferguson).

During WW II, J.L. tried several times to join the service but was rejected because of a childhood accident that blinded him in one eye. So he was left home to take care of the girls and he did a good job. J.L. has one brother Bobby Jack Pierce of Amarillo TX, and one sister Peggy Ferguson, of Sun City AZ.

I, Juanita, the daughter of Rube and Julia Faus was born in Spearman in 1933. I was raised in the back of Rube's Boot Shop. My dad, Rube Faus, has run Rube's Boot Shop for 47 years. For several years his family lived in the back of the "shop". One year was well remembered: it was spent in the Old Spearman Hotel. Mama (Julia Hibbs Faus) leased the hotel for one year. It was very cold and dark. We "kids" had to be quiet all the time.

I was very glad to move back home to the back of the boot shop. Daddy moved us to Amarillo in 1942. So most of my growing up years were spent in Amarillo Schools. We moved back home in 1948. No house could be found for us, so my folks bought a laundry with living quarters in one side and the laundry on the other side. I helped my mother in the Faus Laundry, until I married and left home. I have four sisters: Rosa Steele, Vernonia Oregon (retired to Gage Ok, deceased 1996), Ruby Saltness, Lubbock TX, Bertha Willison and Phyllis Mann both of Gage, OK. I have one brother Harry Faus, of Fountain Valley, CA.

J L and I married in 1952. We spent the first two years farming and Colorado, close to Ignacio. We made $45 over our room and board, so we haven't tried farming again. For the next couple of years, J L worked for Baker and Taylor Drilling Co. We traveled with the rig, which went to Springfield, CO, and Boise City, OK. We returned home and J L went to work for his dad LD Pierce and Pierce Water Well Service. We settled down raising a family: 3 Girls, Karon Hardy of Chesapeake VA, Jammie Pierce of Amarillo, TX, Rosa Roberts, of Chesapeake, VA; two sons: Lynn

(LD) Pierce of Dallas TX, and Tylan Pierce of Spearman. We also helped raise two other boys: John Riley, and my nephew, Mike Pierce- (my sister Rosie's son).Mike lives in Gage OK and we last heard John Riley was living in the Victoria TX or Houston TX area.

J L bought the Pierce Water Well Service from his dad in 1963. His dad's health got so bad he came to live with us in 1962. We lost him to death in 1971. We all loved him very much.

J L loves hunting, fishing, and riding the dune buggy at Wyonka Park in Oklahoma (the buggy was sold in the late 1970's) and he also loves going to the mountains of Colorado and New Mexico.

I enjoy fishing and the mountains. I am a Hanford County historical Commissioner, and a volunteer ambulance driver, both which I enjoy doing very much. She also carried the US Mail for 12 years running the mail route from Spearman to Gruver and Morse, then Stinnett and Back to Spearman. She loved the prairies of our county and always talked about the birds, flowers, snow, and all things beautiful. She discovered some rare "White" bluebonnets, and the State of Texas and Texas Highways Magazine came to collect specimens

We have four grand children: Shameka and Derek Hardy of Chesapeake VA, and Jessie and Austin Roberts, born in Spearman, and now living with Rosa their mother in Chesapeake, VA.

Editors Note from son LD Pierce: My mother Juanita Pierce died of cancer in 1995 and Jesse her granddaughter was the light of her life during her long one year decline into death from bone cancer. It was very painful and Jessie brought much joy and love into my dying mother's life She was diagnosed of cancer as terminal in 1990, but she was a survivor, and took five years of chemotherapy to live.

She lived to see Jessie born and knew that she had another grandson on the way. She was a tough lady, and died with grace and no pain thanks to the help of the Hansford Hospice, and the St. Anthony's Hospice in Amarillo TX. I especially want to thank Erin Bergin of Hansford Hospice for all her help and comfort during the passing of my mother.

Children of Juanita Faus and James Pierce are:

125 i. Lynn Diaz⁸ Pierce, born February 26, 1954.

Notes for Lynn Diaz Pierce:

L.D. Pierce III

I, LD Pierce III (Lynn Diaz) am third generation of the pioneer settlers named Pierce who moved to Hansford County from Johnson County Tx.

My father JL Pierce, carries on the pioneer tradition of "Windmilling", taught to him by my grandfather Ld Pierce, and Ed Wilbanks, his cousin..... My dad, JL is one of the very few practicing "Windmill Men" left. His services provide area ranchers with virtually "free energy" water, thanks to the plentiful panhandle wind.

I am very proud to have learned this lost art from childhood, and also I have personally helped my father and grandfather erect hundrews of these steel and wood towers all over the vast waterless plains; I have had to fight the strong winds while working on windmill motors many times.

My father lost his right index finger while working on a well when I was a child. When I was 11 or 12 we were working on one of HB Parks wells, near Morse, and I jumped from the 1st cross of a wooden tower right onto a large piece of wood with a railroad spike sticking up through it. It went all the way through the middle of my right foot. I never fell off a tower, but came close several times; my dad's cousin Harver Clark did fall from a tower---right into a stock tank below that was full of mud and he was unhurt. This happened at Bernice Browns farm east of town. Boy did Harbert stink of stock tank mud on the way back to town. We made him ride in the back of the truck!

At age six, I began helping my grandpa LD, and my daddy work on windmills during the summer and on weekends. I was paid 50 cents per well. I finally got a raise to a dollar a job by age ten. I loved the prairie and the countyside especially in the springtime. I enjoyed working on the many wells at Turkey Track Ranch, and the 47 windmills at Red Camp by Pampa. We worked on Vera Wroten's two section ranch and wild life refuse, keeping her wells up. I really enjoyed going there: for years she had dug cactus from her pasture and would show me the back of her pick-up or car and it was filled with cactus and she kept a couple of quart jars she had filled with rattlers from the hundreds Rattlesnakes she had killed on her two sections. She always had "Swimming Pool" clean stock tanks and there was no cactus on her property. She was an " Original" free spirit.

Grandpa Ld, was one of eight children: Allen, Susie, Clem, Felix Diaz, George, Visa.

LD Pierce, Sr. was called "Peg Leg Pierce or Peggy" and he accidentally lost his leg while horseback riding at night in Johnson County on the way to play his fiddle at a dance; he began racing a train and collided with it. I finally sought out and found the old Pierce ranch on Goatneck on the Brazos in 1996, and there they men still living in Goatneck still tell tales of LD Pierce Sr. One told me that day was when the men used to steal other persons fishes off the line--they would swim across to the other side of the Brazos--they would always carry a big stick--so that if they were caught they could stick the big piece of wood out of the water, and the people would blame the theft on who else---but LD Pierce. I finally heard of Dee Peterson (one of the oldest Living Pioneers in Johnson County) who lived on the land adjoining the Pierce ranch but by the time I could call him to have him tell me more about LD and Rhoda Pierce he was dying. He knew Rhoda and Peg Leg and had grown up with them all his life till they moved to Hansford County.

I was born in 1954 and have one brother Tylan, and three sisters; Karon, Jammie, and Rosa. I graduated Spearman High in 1972 and was very active in speech and debate all through high school under the leadership of June Heidelberg Porter. I was elected most studious of my class and also was Editor of the 1972 LYNX yearbook my senior year, under the direction of DeWayne Mitchell.

I attended Texas Tech University getting a BSBA in Business in the Fall of 1977. I served on the Business Administration Student Council from its inception until 1976. After my graduation with a degree in marketing I was a sales rep for J & G Waste Systems of Lubbock selling Dempsty dumpsters. They moved me to Dallas Tx in the fall of 1979 to start a new company. Joan Giannattasio the owners daughter is still one of my very good friends to this day and they own Anchor Waste in Houston Tx. I have been self employed owning SOS Products in Dallas Tx selling security products to businesses, especially the eztone entry alert security door chimes. I became interested in genealogy and the internet in 1994, and have spent the three years since my mothers death researching Pierce, Faus, Hibbs, Wilbanks, Scott family histories.

Letter to the Editor of the Amarillo Daily News

I read with interest your article (July 5 1978) on attempting to make the Panhandle a separate state. I also 'had 'read the letter from Mrs. Carol Ennis of Friona on Sunday. . These thoughts and reasoning should have justified the airing and thought of the general public no matter how unsympathetic they may be at the present time. Although the pros and cons are many and varied it is a very good concept. For instance we could name our new state Llano Estacado (the great high plains). Our border could be the Caprock Escarpment, the natural border separating the high Plains from the rolling plains of central Texas.

This is an outstanding natural borderline. Plainview or Pampa would be a good state capitol excluding Amarillo or Lubbock because they fight enough: already and either, being a capitol, would make the other jealous and the above mentioned are pretty neutral towns. I agree that we aren't adequately represented in Austin or Washington, D.C. but our towns in the Panhandle are so far apart and separated and we would still be a large state so it is reasonable to assume that with the expense of building a state capitol building and other offices that we would need, we still would not be taken care of much better than in Austin. At 'least for a long 'time; it would take years to get organized into an efficient state, we dreamers can just dream on!

Spearman Tots Escape Drowning

Spearman, June 20, 1951 (Special)

Phyllis Faus, 7 yrs old and Mary Lena Jones, 9, had a near escape from drowning Sunday afternoon when they stepped into a deep hole while wading in Palo Duro Creek. Phyllis the the daughter of Mr and Mrs Rube Faus, Mary Lena, is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Guy Jones. The two families , together with the WH

Black Family were on a picnic at the old "Near to Nature Park" and Mrs Black had been watching the children wade in the creek. In the Short time it took her to walk up to the bank where the adults in the party were sitting the little girls almost lost their lives. Jerry Black, 10, cousin of Mary Lena, shouted the alarm after he remembered the little girls could not swim, and decided they weren't showing off. Franklin Baer, Dumas, and Steve Oates, Pampa, dived into the creek and were bring the children to shore when their parents arrived at the scene. The men, who had just completed a course in first ait, were assisted by Mrs. Oates, a registered nurse, in administering artificial respiration. They continued to work with the children almost an hour before Mrs. Oates though it safe to move them. Rube Faus, took the little girls to the Hansford County Hospital at Spearman where oxygen was administered to complete the first aid treatment. The attending physican said there was no doubt that correct application of artificial respiration had saved the children's lives.

Pierce-Hardy

Born July 7 1955, Karon Pierce is nothing special but it's interesting to note my mother Juanita Pierce was born 1933, my sister Rosa, was born 1966, and my daughter was born 1977. My son Derek was born March 16 1979, the same day as my grandpa, L.D. Pierce, who was born 1895.

I was born in Hansford Hospital, reared and educated in Spearman. Prior to graduating in 1973 I worked for Dr D.E. Hackley, D.O., as a student employee, through the Spearman Schools.

After working in Oklahoma and Arlington, I joined the U.S. Army. I Graduated from Basic Training April 1975 as an honor trainee of my platoon. I was ordered to Frankfurt, Germany, after advanced individual training. While in Germany I was promoted to Radio Teletype Teach Chief and Rank of Sergeant.

I met my husband, Ulysses Quincy Hardy, while stationed in Germany. We married in East Point, GA, when he returned from Europe. I was stationed in Atlanta, GA at the time. my daughter Shameka, was born in East Point GA.

Quint, is the son of Albert Louise (Harris) Hardy. He attended Durham junior College, in Durham, North Carolina, before joining the service. He has one sister Jocelyn Hardy Stephens, a teacher in the Norfolk School VA School System. She is married to Harry Stephens. We are both students at Tidewater Community College, in Chesapeake, VA. My son, Derek Quincy, was born in Norfolk, VA.

I am very proud of my heritage. People are in awe when I tell of my Great-grandpa coming to Texas in a covered wagon, my grandpa, LD, and My dad , JL Pierce, the windmill men, and my grandpa Rube Faus, the bootmaker. The biggest adjustment moving East is the abundance of water and the lack of windmills.
